Chapter 1

I woke up, the scent of herbs filling my nose. I looked over at my sleeping mentor, I purred and padded out of the den. I looked across camp and noticed that everyone was busy, after Poppystar became leader things changed to a happier mood. I still hated shadowclan for killing my mother, the horror we had to watch still haunted my mind. My sister Lillyleap was also still effected by this, though it had been countless moons ago when it happened I would never forget. I noticed a few strange things, the fact that Poppystar had been so happy was odd. I padded up to Poppystar in hopes she would still be happy, and in fact she was.
"Poppystar may I come in?" I asked.
"Of course Dawnpelt you are always welcome in my den," Poppystar said, I padded in and to my surprise she was very happy.
"Poppystar may I ask why you are so happy?" I asked.
"Well you see Dawnpelt I am expecting Deathblazes kits," Poppystar said.
"Congrats Poppystar you know this means I have to keep a close eye on you right," I said.
"Of course Dawnpelt now go I am sure other cats need you more then I do," Poppystar said, I padded out of her den and noticed that Whiskerfang was limping. I padded over to him, I sat in front of him.
"Why are you limping?" I asked.
"I got a thorn in my paw," Whiskerfang said, I saw the thorn stuck in his pad. I pulled it out quickly so it didn't hurt, he cleaned it right away.
"There all done," I said.
"Thanks Dawnpelt," Whiskerfang said padding over to his mate and kits.

Guys yes I know things happened suddenly and stuff but I have no ideas right now ok.

Chapter 2

I padded out of the medicine cats den, I saw the kits playing not far off. I went back inside to check on our herb supply, I noticed we needed more burdock root. I knew some grew near shadowclan, I padded up to Snowpetal.
"Hey Snowpetal I am going to get more burdock root," I said.
"Ok be safe," she said, I padded out of camp. I headed down towards the shadowclan border, I got there to see a large patch. I started to grab a few when I noticed the shadowclan medicine cat was also here, I put my bundle down.
"Hello Hawkfang," I said.
"Hello Dawnpelt," Hawkfang said.
"I will see you tomorrow night at the moon pool," I said grabbing my bundle.
"Yes I shall," Hawkfang said, I padded back towards camp. The rivalry between shadowclan and Thunderclan had shrunk since the battle, I would never forgive the Tom that killed my mother. I padded into the medicine cats den, I place the burdock in its pile and layed in my nest. I sighed, I let sleep come over me.

Hey guys I have some bad news, I will be taking a break. As in break I mean a long one, I will not be writing stories until my break is over. I will still comment and talk to you all but other then that I am not doing anything else with this app, I am sorry but I have lost interest in some of my books. Until I talk next, bye guys.

Hi guys

Hi guys here with some good news and bad news.
Good news is I am going to be writing my stories again.
Bad news is that updates will be slow, you beg for updates be aware the update will take long got it.
Anyways glad to be back

Chapter 3

I woke to a nice sunny day, Snowpetal was outside getting some fresh kill. I padded out and looked around, a seering pain went through me head and a vision filled my mind.
"Four kits of a day's break shall hold the power of the forest and the stars in their paws," the voice said before vanishing, Snowpetal padded over a mouse in her jaws. She placed it down, she gave me a good look.
"You heard it too," Snowpetal whispered, I nodded.
"Yeah but I don't know what it means,"'I said, Snowpetal nodded.
"Do not tell any cat except other medicine cats after we figure out what it means," Snowpetal said.
"Ok I promise," I said, we quickly ate the mouse before I went back in to check the herb supply. A loud yowl came from the camp entrance, I poked my head out to see we were getting invaded by shadowclan. Me and Snowpetal watched on, I could not watch me clan mates get hurt so I ran out to see if I could find any injured cats. I noticed Hawkfang helping a shadowclan cat, my pelt bristled in anger and I bolted up to him. He spun around and his eyes went wide, mine narrowed.
"I-i knew nothing of this until we were attacking I promise," Hawkfang said, I flattened my ears but before I could say anything a cat barrelled into my side. I stumble sideways, I caught myself but was knocked over again. Something hit my lungs knocking the wind out of me before it suddenly lifted, I looked and saw Hawkfang had knocked the cat off.
"SHE IS A MEDICINE CAT YOU KNOW ITS AGAINST THE CODE TO ATTACK HER EVEN ME!" Hawkfang spat at the she-cat.
"WELL HOW WAS I SUPOSE TO KNOW WHEN SHE WAS GOING TO ATTACK YOU!" The she-cat spat before running off into the battle, Hawkfang padded over to me.
"Sorry about shadefur she has a bad temper," Hawkfang said.
"It's ok come to my den we have shelter there so we don't get hurt," I said, I showed Hawkfang to the medicine cats den.
"Why is he Here," Snowpetal hissed her voice cracked from age.
"This is Hawkfang shadowclans medicine cat and he has nowhere to put the injured cats so we may as well help," I said, Hawkfang nodded.

"Fine he can stay but if....." Snowpetal said but got cut off by a group of cats coming in.
"oh no," I said.
"GUARD THE HERBS!" Snowpetal yowled, I ran in front of the herb crevasse. I attacked any cat who got close, a jet black Tom attacked then a grey she-cat attacked at the same time. They pinned me down while a brown tabby to, ran in and tore apart our herb supply. I managed to get up and attacked the Tom, I clawed at the toms throat in blind rage. It took me a moment to notice I had killed him, I backed up the blood staining my paws. I looked back at the shocked cats, my eyes burned with tears and I ran off. I ran through the forest far away from the sounds of the battle, I had no idea I was being followed. I came to a sudden stop and went flying forwards, I spun around my pelt bristling to see Hawkfang.
"Why did you follow me," I spat, Hawkfang got up.
"Because Snowpetal asked me too," Hawkfang said,I just glared at him.
"I killed a cat," I hissed, his eyes showed deep sympathy.
"He tore apart your herb supply," Hawkfang said.
"Why do you talk to me after your clan killed my mother!" I yowled, my eyes showing nothing but hatred.
"Dawnpelt look shadowclan have exiled the Tom but we could do nothing more it's against the warrior code to kill," Hawkfang said, I knew I was trying his patience.
"Well I killed a cat!" I spat.
"He tore apart your herbs you had a reason!" Hawkfang suddenly snapped, I stumbled back.
"Hawkfang why do you bother talking to me," I said my voice quiet.
"Because we are medicine cats," Hawkfang said sitting beside me.
"How can I repay you for showing me so much kindness?" I asked leaning on his shoulder.
"Meet me by the border tonight," Hawkfang said, I looked at him.
"Ok I will," I said, we padded back to the now destroyed camp.
"I better go make sure my clan is ok," Hawkfang said running off after the now retreating shadowclan, I padded towards Snowpetal.
"Your back thank starclan," Snowpetal said padding up to me.
"Sorry I ran off when I could have been helping," I said.
"Trust me it was best because you would have been distracted and might have killed a cat," Snowpetal said with a purr, I purred. "Your probably right," I said, I we get inside to my nest. I groomed my fur and layed down, I let sleep take over. After all, I had to be strong enough for tonight.

Hey guys so sorry for the long wait, my town has been flooded and I am trying my best to help out.

Chapter 4

I awoke, the stars shining brightly. I looked over and saw Snowpetal sleeping, I sat up quickly grooming my fur before leaving the den. I snuck through camp towards the entrance, I glance around before quickly heading out into the forest. I headed towards the shadowclan border, once I got close I could make out the shape of Hawkfang. He looked at me and waved his tail in greeting, I got closer and sat down.
"Why did you want to meet here?" I asked, he let out a soft purr.
"So we can meet without having to worry about our clans," Hawkfang said, I sighed.
"What's the real reason" I said.
"I wanted to see you again, I know your going through a tough time, so am I" Hawkfang said, I let out a purr.
"I am glad that I can talk to someone other then my clanmates," I said, he entwined his tail with mine. I looked at him, his eyes filled with joy and love.
"Dawnpelt I know this is against the warrior code but will you be my mate?" Hawkfang asked hope and love in his eyes, I was speechless unable to find the words to speak.

Ooooooooooo will Dawnpelt accept or will she deny love, two medicine cats from two different clans what will happen.

Chapter 5

I was silent for a few moments still in shock, Hawkfang waited patiently.
"I-I I l-love you too Hawkfang but we are from two different clans and we are both medicine cats this goes against the warrior code twice," I said, his eyes dimmed.
"I understand," Hawkfang said his ears and tail drooped.
"But I can keep a secret," I said smiling, his ears and tail shot up and he turned to me smiling.
"You won't regret this," Hawkfang said, he sat at my side his tail entwined with mine. I purred and put my muzzle to his shoulder, he gave a smile.
"I hope I don't," I said purring, he looked at the sky.
"We better get back to camp and get some sleep," Hawkfang said, I nodded yawning.
"See you tomorrow night at the moon pool," I said waving my tail before padding back to camp, I was deep in thought when I got back to my den. I lay down in my nest, I fell into a dreamless sleep.

Boom guys two medicine cats going against the code to be with the ones they love, be warned now that things are going right they can only go wrong.
